Residents Continue Plea
Vs. Late Hour Activities

Public complaints about the Cities Service station at 1171 Mass. ave. continue to harass local officials.

And, the Town officials themselves have received some criticism about their indifference to the situation.

In another effort to bring the affair under control, Selectmen asked Malcolm Keljikian, operator of the station, and a Cities Service representative to confer at another discussion of the problem last Monday night.

A complete investigative police report was read by the Town Manager.

One part of the report which interviewed adjacent residents, contained mixed reactions. Some neighbors were not bothered at all by noises while others were very specific in describing their objections.

Chief complaints were lodged against a variety of noises after midnight and the "sloppy appearance" of the station. Another police report revealed that nearly two dozen cars were parked on the premises at night and that lubrications, car washings and minor repairs went on after the station shut off its lights outside.

Keljikian said that he had made an effort to comply with the Board's wishes after he had been brought before them last summer.

He also said that he had no mechanic at the station after 11 p.m. but that they did do check-ups on taxis which parked there overnight and must be ready early in the morning. This included gas and oil, battery charges, washing, etc.

He said that eight taxis (which he no longer owns) (Continued on Page 12)

FURTHER FACE LIFTING on Mass. ave. took place with the demolition of two dilapidated buildings at Mill st. Property was purchased by Colonial Motors, Inc. (immediately adjacent) last August. However, Louis Boucher, president, deferred action until tenants could find suitable housing. The family had three young children and expecting another. The area will be black-topped and will become a used car lot. Recently, two other old buildings, across the street, were torn down to enhance the site of the historic Jason Russell house. —Advocate Staff Photo

More Candidates
Enter Election

Three more candidates for major town office have been added this week to last week's list of 18.

Of interest is the taking out of papers for Selectman by a young woman. She is Marilyn C. Keefe, a nurse, of 23 Russell ter.

This is the first time a woman has run for this office since Mrs. Kenneth Spengler did five or six years ago. It was said, then, that she was the first of her sex to run in history.

Brian R. Wilkin of 1 Monadnock rd., has entered the contest for School Committee. At present he is in the U.S. Air Force and is listed as 22 years of age.

The third candidate — also young — is William K. Burke of 80 Brantwood rd., who will challenge William O. Houser for Assessor.

Deadline for filing nomination papers is Jan. 30.

BUFFET supper and hat fashion show sponsored by the Catholic Women's club, will be held Jan. 25 in Legion hall.

This week Town Manager Monahan appointed John W. Walsh III to the Park Commission. The appointment was approved by the Selectmen.

Walsh succeeds Frank J. Hughes for a 3-year term. Hughes had declined re-appointment.

Monahan called Walsh's record "an outstanding one" in his letter to the Board.

The letter:

Gentlemen:
In accordance with Section 20 of the Town Manager Act, and subject to the approval of the Board of Selectmen, I have appointed Mr. John W. (Continued on Page 12)

New Firm Opens
In Arl. Center

This morning marked the beginning of a three-day grand opening observance at the new Sherwin-Williams branch, 457 Massachusetts ave. The store was formerly occupied by Clearweave.

Highlighting festivities at the famous-name paint, wallpaper and color service center are awards of Super Kem Tone and Kem Glo (enough each for an entire room) to ten lucky visitors; useful favor gifts to all adults; balloons for youngsters and a variety of paint and accessories special values.

Specific sale items are detailed in the Sherwin-Williams opening ad this issue.

Hosting the ribbon cutting ceremony at 10:30 were Selectman Daniel J. Buckley, chairman of the Board, and branch manager J. Henry Aalerud, a long-time Belmont resident, who has been identified with the Martin-Senour Co., a Sherwin-Williams affiliate. (Continued on Page 12)

DEMONSTRATIONS —

Hysterical interruptions by excited partisans during deliberations at the United Nations, such as marked the January 4 meeting of the Security Council on Cuba, have had many precedents in the history of the world organization. Their occurrence both inside and outside the headquarters has explained the careful training including the art of judo — provided for the uniformed guards always on duty, whose deft handling of disorders has been commented on favorably by police officials of a number of countries.

To maintain or restore order the staff moves with considerable speed, either removing the culprits bodily, or spotting potential agitators as they enter the premises, and quietly ushering them out the way they came. The guards have been called into action particularly at the time of the Hungarian crisis, the revolution in Guatemala in 1953, and on previous occasions when Cuban relations with the United States were being debated.

BULGING AT SEAMS —

This year a membership of 100 nations, with the possibility of another 20 in the near future, is straining house room of the United Nations far beyond capacity. According to an architect's survey presented to the General Assembly's budgetary committee, four large conference rooms are slated under the plan to lose the horse-shoe shaped seating arrangement familiar to visitors to the international organization.

Auditorium-style row seating is proposed instead to accommodate the expanding membership, as well as additional meeting rooms and increased facilities for television or other visual services.

AIR TRAVELERS —

The lure of jet travel has upped the number of air passengers throughout the world by 10% over 1959, bringing the total to an historic 100 million in 1960, according to the International Civil Aviation Organization, a specialized agency of the United Nations. Scheduled airlines of the 83 member countries of ICAO report, however, that the average air passenger still travels a medium distance, at a medium speed, and in propeller-driven planes, despite the widespread increase in new, long-range, sub-sonic aircraft.

GIFT TREES PLANTED —

On the European trip from which he has returned recently, Representative John V. Lindsay (Republican, New York) planted three cypress trees on the grounds of the Geneva headquarters of the International Labor Organization, the oldest of the specialized agencies affiliated with the United Nations. The trees, each about 16 feet high, were presented by American friends of the I.L.O., to commemorate the 40th anniversary of its founding.

Congressman Lindsay represents the 17th District in New York, in which United Nations headquarters are situated.

United States Army Vocational Training

Sgt. Donald Stewart, Arlington, Army Recruiter located at Union Sq., Post Office, announced today that there's a big chance for young men interested in skills such as automotive maintenance, aircraft components repair, railway or aircraft maintenance and motor transport.

The Army has schools across the country to teach these skills and many more to young men eager to learn. "Thousands of young men have gone on to success, in both military and civilian life, thanks to the high quality of training they received in the Army," Sgt. Stewart said.

He also said, "they have a chance to choose the career field they like best, with their choice guaranteed in writing before they enlist."

Sgt. Stewart said he would be happy to answer any questions young men have about the Army's "Choose It Yourself" Vocational Training System.

It's A Boy!

Air France's Has All Jet Service

The inauguration just a few days ago of Air France 707 Intercontinental flights between Paris and Tokyo via the Near and Far East completes the French airline's all-jet route around the world.

Air France 707s now leave Paris at 8:59 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and at 11:00 a.m. on Sundays, for Rome, Teheran, Bangkok and other intermediate stops en route to Tokyo. These flights connect with already existing Air France 707 Intercontinental services between Tokyo and Paris via Anchorage and over the North Pole to form an around-the-world route.

Air France 707 services also link this world — circling route with New York, Montreal, Chicago, and Los Angeles. All these jet services have both First Class and Economy accommodations.

Flights between Tokyo and Paris via the southern route leave the Japanese capital on Saturdays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays. The new Air France flights add 30 more cities to the Company's 707 Intercontinental network. Minimum distance and flying time by jetliner via the southern route is 9,043 miles in 20 hours 5 minutes. On the Paris-Tokyo Polar route of the around-the-world services, the distance flown is 8,236 miles and flying time is 17 hours 15 minutes.

In the Thirtieth Anniversary year of Air France service to the Far East, the French airline has both Polar and southern jetliner routes, which together circle the globe via Paris and Tokyo. Today, 17 Air France 707 Intercontinental jets serve five continents.

All About Babies

(A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council)

A Guide To Diaper Hygiene

By Wm. F. Burdick, M.D.

There's encouraging news and helpful advice for all mothers of babies of diaper age in a new booklet introduced at the recent annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The booklet is entitled, "A Mother's Guide to Diaper Hygiene."

The booklet was prepared by the Section of Medicine of the National Baby Care Council (The writer is chairman of this Section.) It is being distributed through pediatricians and physicians to the mothers of the nation's 8-million diaper wearing babies.

The theme of this valuable little booklet is that diaper rash can be prevented. It points out that there is no single cause for diaper rash but that there are five different causes that singly or in combination are responsible for the ailment.

These five causes are:
1. Ammonia, the most common, a powerful skin irritant formed by the decomposition of urine in the diaper.
2. Live bacteria, present in a washed, dried and clean diaper that has not been sterilized.
3. Chafing of the skin due to a diaper left harsh after washing.

4. Alkaline condition of the diaper, resulting from most conventional laundering.
5. Skin scalding due to the chemical action of traces of detergents or other washing materials which has not been completely rinsed out of the diaper.

"Good diaper hygiene to prevent diaper rash," states the booklet, "can be practiced simply and surely by diapering baby with correctly processed diapers, and following a fastidious diapering routine as long as baby wears diapers."

The booklet points out that while it is possible to correctly process diapers at home, professional diaper processing is done under strict laboratory control, using specialized washing and rinsing equipment.

The booklet details the proper procedure for the scientific processing of diapers in the home for those parents who do not use a professional diaper service. It also lists a series of hints for good diaper hygiene the mother can follow.

"It is a mistake," states the booklet, "to think that diaper rash occurs only during the early months. Babies can get diaper rash as long as they wear diapers. Indeed, the most distressing and dangerous cases tend to be among older babies."

The booklet goes on to say there are several reasons for this. During the first few months, mothers are usually

ALB Brotherhood To Hear Diver

The Brotherhood of the Arlington, Lexington, Bedford Community center announces that the program for the January meeting will be Frank Sanger, a one legged, one armed scuba diver.

Sanger has had 7 years experience as a compressed air diver and 14 years of free diving. He is also a long distance swimmer. Sanger has taught skin and scuba diving to the Massachusetts State Police as well as other police and fire departments.

He is associated with New England Divers, Inc. of Beverly in an executive capacity. This organization has done work at Texas Tower and at the scene of airline crashes.

There will be a display of skin diving equipment.

A Minyan service at 8:30 a.m. will precede the breakfast.

50th WEDDING Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Byrne of 13 Chestnut st. was observed on Jan. 8th by children, relatives and friends. Flanking the couple in front row are Mrs. Madeline Tossaint of Bedford (left) and Mrs. Dorothy Barron of No. Reading. Other daughters include (center, 2nd row) Mrs. Gertrude Forsythe of Arlington, Mrs. Mary Perkins of Bedford, Mrs. Leona Dgoust of Toledo, Ohio. Sons (l. to r.) are Leo, Richard, Donald, John Jr., all of Arlington; Joseph, Somerville; Philip and James, of Arlington. Mr. Byrne is Town plumbing inspector. John Jr. is on the Board of Assessors.

Town Topic

—Sen Fu club will hold its monthly meeting, Jan. 19, at 8 p.m. at the New England Mutual hall. Sister Marie Gemma, M.S.B.T. a missionary from Cuba will be the featured speaker. Serving on the committee from Arlington is Christina Carlson.

Students To Sew For Scholarship

The world of high fashion and the world of high school education will join hands as home economic students from Arlington High school, take part in a fashion-sewing contest, sponsored nationally by the General Federation of Womens clubs and Vogue Pattern service.

The Arlington club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Raymond E. Berglund, will sponsor the local competition with the cooperation of the schools home economics department under the supervision of Miss Forsyth.

Each student entering the contest will make what she considers the "Ideal Costume for High School Student's Dress-up Wardrobe." The local winner will receive $5.00 and will be eligible for district judging. A State prize will be awarded as well as National honors.

The National first prize will be a $1,000 scholarship (or cash). Other scholarships or cash awards of $500 and $250 will be awarded to the National second and third prize winners.

The main purpose of this community-centered contest, according to Mrs. Berglund, is to encourage young students to develop a deeper appreciation of homemaking skills.

"The satisfaction gained from creating her own wardrobe, from selecting an appropriate and becoming pattern, choosing practical yet fashionable fabrics, and using sewing skills to create her costume, will provide an important experience in a teenager's learning and growing," she said.

Versatility, workmanship, fashion effect and becomingness to wearer will all be considered in the judging. To illustrate the last points, students will have an opportunity to model their own costumes when the judging takes place locally.

HOME ECONOMICS

Highlight of the annual Eastern Massachusetts Home Economics Ass'n meeting, Simmons College, on January 14 will be an address by Dr. Shane McCarthy on "Youth Fitness is Your Job".

Dr. McCarthy, Executive Director of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, Washington, D.C., is an international figure dedicated to the promotion of youth fitness. The Federal agency which he heads is concerned with the current inertia seen in physical inactivity habits of our modern children. Its aim is to urge and help private organizations of all kinds in their effort to interest youthful citizens in sports and other healthful activities as a means of more wholesome living.

On the program also is Dr. Ernest R. Caverly, superintendent of the Public Schools of Brookline, who will speak on "Education in Russia".

Mrs. Effie G. McEwan of Pelham ter. is on the program committee.

Beth Israel Receives Grants

More than $140,000 in research grants has been awarded to five physicians at Beth Israel Hospital by the U.S. Public Health Service National Institutes of Health. It was announced by Dr. Sidney S. Lee, General Director of the Hospital. The grants were awarded through Harvard University and Beth Israel Hospital.

Dr. A. Stone Freedberg, Associate Director of Medical Research, and Dr. George S. Kurland, Associate Visiting Physician, are studying "The Thyroid and the Heart." A renewal grant of $44,850 has been provided through Harvard University from the National Heart Institute for continuation of studies begun last year.

Drs. Freedberg and Kurland are conducting experimental studies concerning the interaction between the thyroid and the heart. They are interested in what happens to the secretion of the thyroid gland (thyroxin) after it reaches the heart and before it begins to work on it, and what the heart does with the thyroid hormone. The physicians also are studying people with cardiac irregularity to see if there is any correlation between the thyroid and heart irregularity and to discern whether there is thyroid irregularity in such cases.

Dr. Sanford Wessler, Visiting Physician, is investigating the "Mechanism of Serum-Induced Thrombosis" under a renewal grant of $29,106 awarded by the National Heart Institute through Harvard University. He is attempting to correlate thrombosis in animals and in man with chemical changes in the blood. His goal is to develop a clinical test to recognize thrombotic tendencies in man. (A thrombus is a clot.)

This is the second year of the experimental study in which the physician is questioning why serum induces thrombi. He is trying to discover the mechanism that triggers off this action.

A new four year grant of $32,094 per annum has been awarded to Drs. Jacob Fine, Surgeon-in-chief, and John A. Williams, Associate in Surgical Research, by the National Institutes of Health, through Harvard University to study changes in blood volume as a result of hemorrhage, burns and other disorders. This study will be done with a device known as the Volemetron, with which accurate determinations of the blood volume can be made and repeated often. In this way rapid changes that are occurring can be discovered and treated with far greater precision than has been possible in the past. Thus the surgeon in the operating room and the physician at the bedside can be more certain of the state of balance of the blood volume, which must be kept near normal to avoid a collapse of the circulation that can be fatal.

Graduate training in Pathology will be furthered with a

Joins General Radio

Basil A. Bonk, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the Class of 1960, recently joined the development engineering staff of General Radio Co., West Concord. Bonk received both his B.S. and M.S. of electrical engineering degrees from M.I.T. in Sept., 1960.

As an undergraduate, Bonk was a member of Hex Alpha, the electrical engineering co-operative fraternity, and served on the staff of M.I.T.'s radio station, as well as participating in student government activities. He is a member of Sigma Xi.

He lives on Massachusetts ave. here.

Army Reveals New Tank Killer

SFC Chester A. Slicer, Boston Army Base, examines newly-developed anti-tank rocket-grenade developed by Hesse-Eastern Division of Flightex Corporation, Everett, Mass. Inventors Paul Choate and Charles Weeks explain principles of the 4 1/2 pound weapon which is fired from its own disposable packing container.

A newly-developed anti-tank rocket-grenade which is fired from its own disposable packing container was unveiled today before military and civilian press correspondents at a manufacturing Plant on the outskirts of Boston.

The potent weapon, the brain child of a pair of engineers employed by the Hesse-Eastern Division of Flightex Fabrics Inc., weighs only 4 1/2 pounds and the war-head of the rocket-grenade uses a powerful new explosive known as OCTOL.

The weapon is highly effective against tanks, armored vehicles, concrete bunkers, sand bag fortifications and earth-filled log emplacements. Each launcher is fitted with a canvas sling to permit shoulder carry. If desired, four rounds complete with launcher, can be carried in a canvas bag slung over the shoulder like a quiver of arrows.

The rocket-grenade, known as the XM72, 66 mm. is propelled from its launcher-container by a solid fuel motor and teamed with the 90mm recoilless rifle will meet the foot soldier's need for protection against enemy tank attacks.

"We could have used some of these about 16 years ago during the Battle of the Bulge," said SFC Chester A. Slicer, U.S. Army Garrison, Boston Army Base, who fought in Europe with the 301st Infantry, 94th Division, and who was on hand at the press conference.

The new tank-killer is presently undergoing the last of a series of rigid tests at the Army's Fort Greely Alaska testing ground. It was previously subjected to rigorous testing at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, and Fort Benning, Georgia.

Contracts for the new weapon have been awarded by Boston Ordnance District, Boston Army Base.

"Much of what we call progress is merely the substitution of a complicated nuisance for a simple nuisance."

Now Let's Probe Into The Costs

We hesitate to argue with an expert, so let's call this a friendly discussion.

Certainly, Town Engineer Roby is an expert and has had broad experience in the field of landtakings, roadways and parking areas. But, we cannot see how he arrives at a possible figure of around $100,000 for the parking area — as proposed by the Planning Board — near the old Railroad Station in the Center.

The Engineer's figure includes grading, parking meters, curbing, etc., etc., besides the several landtakings which might be involved. However, he does arrive at a figure of between $38,000 and $81,000 for this latter item.

A major portion of the area involved is a plot of about 19,000 sq. ft., owned by the Harvard Trust Co. Being rear land, this area is assessed at around fifty cents per square foot — while the first 100 feet back from Massachusetts avenue has an assessed tag of $2.75 per square foot.

Thus, this plot is valued by the Assessors, for tax purposes, at $10,000. A large portion of the remaining area, including the old building itself, is already owned by the Town. The other areas involved are the smaller, open plots immediately behind the bank and other commercial establishments (within the 100-foot depth).

Quite possibly, these more expensive footages could be excluded from land-taking procedures.

Too, as far as we know, Harvard Trust officials have not been contacted as to their selling price. Of course, this is not Engineer Roby's duty.

We do recall the fuss and fuming when Harvard Trust tried to exclude people parking cars, not on immediate bank business. We know of several instances, where Harvard depositors withdrew their accounts in anger.

Quite possibly, the bank's officials would see an over-all benefit not only to itself but to their business accounts; and, therefore, might offer the land at a very fair price. To go to the courts for very highest nickel is incomprehensible!

We strongly urge that the Planning Board probe deeper into its plan as to costs. Then, and not until then, consider the Selectmen's original proposal of the extension of R.R. avenue across the tracks to Russell terrace and, or a swing roadway to Water street.

National Foundation Still In Red

The Federal Government recently announced that the new oral live-virus vaccine, developed by Dr. Albert B. Sabin under grants from the National Foundation with March of Dimes funds, "is suitable for use in the United States."

Thus did the American people, through their contributions to the March of Dimes, make possible another forward stride in the long fight to prevent polio. The first great stride was the Salk killed-virus, released to the world five years ago and since injected into more than 100 million Americans.

The Sabin oral vaccine will help finish the task of preventing paralytic polio that was begun by the Salk injected vaccine. Many millions of dollars of March of Dimes funds went for the development of the Salk vaccine and the Sabin vaccine. Grants to Dr. Sabin alone have totaled $1,500,000.

Polio may become extinct but its ravages will leave a mark for many years to come. Some of its victims will never walk again — a few will spend the remainder of their days in a respirator. They require medical treatment for which they are unable to pay and which is being provided by the March of Dimes.

In Massachusetts alone, the March of Dimes has expended more than $5 million for patients care since the 1955 epidemic but still owes a half-million dollars to local hospitals. The National Foundation has pledged full payment of those bills but it can meet its obligations only if it attains the goal set for the current January campaign.

The 1961 New March of Dimes Campaign, starts in a few days. We strongly urge your generous donations so that this great organization can wipe the slate clean and move forward to new conquests in arthritis and birth defects without any entanglements.

Promote World Understanding

One bright spot in the international scene these days is the student exchange program. Some 2,300 intelligent and attractive teenagers from 50 nations this year are spending approximately ten months in U.S. homes, attending U.S. schools, and learning the truth about America in one of the most remarkable educational experiments in history.

Similarly, about 1,300 American teenagers are living in homes abroad — learning new languages, gaining a new comprehension of international problems. J. D. Ratcliff reports the success of the program in a January Reader's Digest article, "Let's Trade Teen-Age Citizens!"

"I talked with dozens of exchange students and attended many of their final sessions," he writes. "There was almost unanimous agreement on many things. Nearly all had gained a deep respect for U.S. democracy. All had made friendships they were sure would last a lifetime."

At first government-sponsored, the exchange program is now handled by five private agencies: the American Field Service, American Friends Service Committee, International Christian Youth Exchange, National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Michigan Council of Churches.

Surrounding Communities Will Share

Some $21-million in Federal renewal money was handed Boston Mayor Collins recently at a luncheon sponsored by the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce — thereby touching the fuse to the tremendous $90-million program which, without question, will change the face and future of the city of Boston.

This huge grant should help revitalize Boston, and halt the decay that has been rotting one of the nation's most famous cities. Surrounding communities are bound to share in this.

U.S. Urban Renewal Commissioner David M. Walker pointed out that this is the first time the federal government had given advance approval to a city-wide program involving not one but a whole series of projects. Subject to a successful realization of the program in Boston, this type of city-wide renewal planning may well become a model for other cities.

Boston has the money, and now the muscle and sinews and brains needed to push the program through to successful conclusion are the next big step. This program, along with the Government Center, the $150-million Prudential Center, the West End Development, and others, means that Boston, and Massachusetts, are on the march. Better days should be ahead for the entire state when the economic boosts generated by these great plans take root.

Boston's huge $90-million redevelopment program will be a pioneering one for America and its impact will be registered throughout the nation.

THUMBNAILED THOUGHTS

Governor Volpe rapped the Executive Council to order, submitted for approval the salaries of his chief aides, and was given swift and unanimous approval for his first official act. Maybe he should quit while ahead.

Despite the multiplicity of jokes about bowlegs, they're really few and far between.

Morale is so low in some state departments on Beacon Hill that the bosses have stopped saying it could be better and now note that it could be worse.

We learn quickly to take modern day wonders for granted. We think of airplanes now only to worry about crashes.

That Man About Town

By MAT

We were a bit sore when last week's column didn't get in. With Selectman Arthur Saul's announced candidacy for re-election, it gave us a timely chance to praise a selectman — and his service to the Town.

Mailed from a nearby city, we understand the column was mislabeled to Arlington, VIRGINIA. This happens once in a while — another good argument to re-call ourselves Menotomy, the orig. label.

With all these 20 to 30 year olds running for office, we renege the long arm of JFK's appeal and, more particularly, the gentle, professional hand of young Bob Porteus.

One young chap, around 22 yrs, has "taken out" nomination papers for School Committee — Brian Wilkin. He is in the Air Force and, as we hear it, expects to be stationed at Westover Field near Springfield. Of course, that isn't much of a trip today over the Mass. Pike, particularly if he's a helicopter pilot.

As our readers may know, Spy Pond field is under the control of the school board. Too, there is, the flat roof of the Town Hall addition — even closer to the committee's council chambers.

Too, don't forget anybody can "take out" papers for anybody else and run around with them. Of course, when filed, the papers must bear the candidate's sig.

So, we wonder — or do we wonder? It's all wonderful fodder for a drooping pen.

Truly, this year's election has all the ingredients of a spiced cake — even without the frosting or since the time Barman learned the meaning of "egress" and his patrons hadn't. And the 1961 Ringmaster of the ponderous pachyderms is nimble Bob.

However, to his credit, Porteus is a very serious, yet exuberant young man — hard-working, great helper to many a cause, intelligent — all this hidden by an outward care-free camaraderie!

Local 4-H Club Has Many Projects

The Hannah Hopscotch Club, a 4-H clothing group led by Mrs. Madeline McCauley of 86 Marathon st., has enthusiastically started its second year in the 4-H club work.

The members of the local group are Manja Krieks, Elaine Koulis, Maria Karaginis, Madeline McCauley, Gloria Mattioli, Jean Primerano, MaryAnn Primerano and Beth Karaginis.

In the first year, they made scarves and skirts for themselves, and at Christmas time they presented aprons and luncheon sets to their mothers.

In April of last year, they were presented a blue ribbon for a window display, entitled "Learn by Doing." It consisted of eight twelve-inch dolls performing such activities as selecting a pattern, measuring a hem and operating a sewing machine.

Their last project of the year was a visit to the Somerville Singer Sewing Machine Co. where they learned the proper use and care of machines and attachments.

The Club started off this year by selling 4-H cranberry syrup. The proceeds will be used to treat the members to a fashion show. This year, most of the members have made a vest and plan to make a skirt and blouse to complete their outfit.

The opportunities for the children of Arlington in 4-H Club work are numerous. To girls between the ages of 9 and 21, 4-H offers such projects as clothing, foods, knitting, child care, home improvement and crafts.

Some of the projects that are popular with the boys are woodworking, photography, rifle, electric, home grounds improvement, entomology and automotive.

Two Hurt In Falls

John Rafferty, 58, 459 Mystic st., was treated at Symmes hospital, Jan. 7, for an injury to her right hip sustained when he fell from a ladder at his home.

To: Citizens

We admit the 20-odd candidates for town offices have greatly depleted your ranks.

But, out of 27,000 registered voters, can't more be found who are willing to run for Town Meeting Member?

The South wind and rain of Monday and Tuesday soon cleared Spy Pond of its coating of ice.

Soon the question will be, who shall we have for candidates for the several town offices. The expenses of the past year are likely to develop more of interest than has been shown for the past few years.

The year which has just closed, must find its place in history with other years which seemed wonderful as they passed by, and as a whole, the year has been one of promise more than disaster and we can feel that our nation, states and even town, have taken up a few of the stitches they had dropped in the past and are ready to commence the new year with strong hands and hopeful hearts.

Tax collector Edward Bailey said that this was the best showing of collections since 1932. A considerable part of the gain in 1935 collections was the result of many payments of taxes by banks, that had become owners through foreclosure of mortgages. He had hoped that the increase in payments would continue through the year, but tax payments during the last six weeks were again showing a falling off.

Under The State House Dome

By J. J. Smith

BOSTON — Massachusetts lawmakers are back on Beacon Hill and it will be interesting to see whether there'll be a return to the dilatory tactics that ham-strung positive action in the 1960 session and badly damaged the reputation of the General Court, the oldest contiguous legislative body in the nation.

Legislators would have to go some to "outdo" the shabby record posted last year — a record that shocked citizens of the state and left the average person completely without faith in the competence and dedication of their elected representatives in state government.

The eleven-hour, post-election salary grab to benefit legislators themselves climaxed a marathon session that set what may be a new low for shilly-shallying and irresponsibility in this state.

Unfortunately, a small dedicated group of legislators, who constantly defy political pressures and vote with responsibility and intelligence, get tarred with the same reputation in the public mind because of the irresponsibility and aimlessness of the majority.

It's high time for a new start in the General Court, and there's a good possibility that lawmakers, jittery at the near-savage reaction to their last-minute raid on the treasury, might resolve to do some things better this year.

John A. Volpe, inaugurated as the 61st governor of Massachusetts on January 5, will do much to set the moral and ethical tone of the coming months in legislative halls, even though he is a member of the minority party on Beacon Hill.

Faced with Democratic majorities in both branches and with an all-Democratic Executive Council, Volpe is in a news-making position as chief executive. The threat of constant unfavorable publicity, while not normally a deterrent to Bay State legislators, conceivably would have impact this year.

They are jittery and rightly worried they may lose their pay hikes. A blow at the pocketbook talks mightly powerful language to anyone — be they doctors, lawyers, Indian chiefs or legislators! By rolling up their collective shirt sleeves, using a dab or two of integrity and honesty where needed — and this session of the General Court could be relatively short and productive. It's unfortunate that some of the accomplishments of the 1960 session were buried under the drifting of the 11-month meeting.

Last year's session ran till Nov. 24 and was the longest in Massachusetts' history. Without question, this year's will be shorter barring genuine emergency. There are few who doubt but that all stops will be pulled to avoid another marathon session.

Lawmakers can finish their job in six months, and legislative leaders should make every effort to see that this year's deliberations end by Fourth of July weekend. The leadership can control the length of the 61 session by keeping pressure on committee to get bills to the floor for a vote. Another way is simply to get down to brass tacks early and force quick showdowns on controversial legislation.

The public wrath against the $1,500 pay raise and $300 bonus voted legislators by themselves, may generate favorable action. It makes favorable the possibility that the state legislature may act to reform legislative procedure and shorten the annual sessions.

New York State, most populous in the nation, winds up its legislative sessions in late March every year. This prospect is not an impossibility for Massachusetts.

Despite the loss of prestige accruing from the marathon 1960 session, the General Court should be even more concerned at the public's loss of faith in morality in state government. Moral and ethical standards are badly unraveled on Beacon Hill.

State officials as well as legislators violate the trust imposed in them, and violate the law as well, when they do business with the state through "straws" or relatives. Job freezings for ex-legislators, the creation of jobs and judge-ships for favored lawmakers, lawyer-legislators representing clients be-

Behind the Business Scene

by REYNOLDS KNIGHT

NEW YORK — There'll be neither a boom nor a bust in 1961, in the opinion of some of the nation's leading economists and credit and financial executives, men who make a business of keeping a finger on the economic pulse.

They seem agreed that the first half of 1961 will be a period in which caution will be exercised, but the second half will see a steady upturn.

Experts interviewed at a recent economic forum of the National Industrial-Conference Board were unanimous that the present mild recession will not continue through the second half of the year. Credit and financial executives, representing a cross-section of industrial wholesaling and financial concerns, feel that the recession of the past few months will end by July.

The economists estimated that the gross national product would continue at the present rate of $500 to $505 billion a year during the first half and then climb at an annual rate of approximately $518 billion by the end of 1961. They also expect relative price stability throughout the coming year.

PRICE STABILITY — This is borne out in a study just issued by the economics department of C.I.T. Financial Corporation, one of the nation's largest diversified business organizations with subsidiaries engaged in consumer and industrial financing, factoring, insurance, industrial leasing and manufacturing.

It points out that the financial position of the U.S. consumer at the start of 1961 is "eminently sound" and that a "moderate" expansion in the use of instalment credit is in prospect.

"Ample credit will be available in 1961 to support any anticipated upturn in consumer buying or industrial expansion," according to L. Walter Lundell, president of C.I.T. "Present evidence suggests that the economy is likely to start moving upward in a matter of months," he said, "and increased expenditures by businessmen to rebuild inventory positions and improve or enlarge productive capacity then would follow."

SPACE MATERIALS — A marked expansion in materials research was one of the most significant achievements of the aerospace industry during 1960, according to a leading industry spokesman.

"A survey of companies in the aerospace field shows a sharp rise in both government-sponsored and privately funded study and development projects in the materials area during the year just ending," said Harley S. Jones, executive vice president of Republic Aviation Corporation. He adds that indications point to the movement of more research dollars into basic materials research and development of new production techniques for space metals.

The past year, he said, was notable for the fact that scientific agencies dramatized the seriousness of the "materials lag." Early in the year, Jones said, the National Academy of Sciences gave a note of urgency to the materials problem by reporting that a lack of proper materials was holding up the nation's entire space program.

INSTRUMENT OUTLOOK — There are a number of favorable factors at work for the instrument industry. Capital spending plans for new plants and equipment and for modernizing existing facilities are down only slightly from 1960 and may be revised upward before the end of the year to the point where such outlays may approach record peaks.

This is the opinion of James S. Locke, vice president of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. He believes the most significant trend in instrumentation is the heavy emphasis on engineered control systems and the insistence by many manufacturers that these be integrated by a single source which assumes responsibility for primary elements to final control and even installation and maintenance.

The formation of a special systems division by Honeywell last August, he says, "recognizes this approach for providing results in terms of complete systems, many of which, tied together by computers, represent new control techniques and concepts."

GOLDEN AGE CLUB

Library hall was full Jan. 5, when the Golden Age club meeting was conducted by Bruce M. Tallman, president. He requested that members stand in silent recognition of the late Randall A. Whittier, who died suddenly on Jan. 1. He was the immediate past president of the club.

Following the regular opening exercises, the chairmen of various committees were introduced as well as new members who are Mrs. Anna M. Johnson, 94 Dow Ave.; Miss Ellen W. Merrill, 94 Dow Ave.; Mrs. Eva M. Whitney, 7 Harris Circle; Henry G. Frederick, 47 Lewis Circle; Manuel Leal, 18 Trowbridge St.

It was announced that opportunity will be offered to attend "The Ice Follies" and the Flower show at a later date.

The Paul Revere Bell Ringers, more popular than ever as entertainers, presented a charming program of old favorites.

Frances Walton and Tina Pistillo served refreshments. Jan. 19 at 2 p.m. in Library hall, is the time of the next meeting, when James Yule, magician will entertain.

Anyone 65 years or over may attend.

29329 Reg. Commonwealth of Massachusetts, LAND COURT

To the Town of Arlington, a municipal corporation located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, Francis A. Gilman, Edna V. Gilman, Frank E. Sullivan, Marion L. Sullivan, Sidney H. Buttrick, Jr., Marguerite C. Buttrick, William R. Buttrick, Adelaide M. Bennett, Joan C. Dolan, Frank J. Denney and Anna F. Denney, all of said Arlington, The United States of America, and to all whom it may concern.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by G.W. Realty Construction Corp., a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in said Arlington, to register and confirm its title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Arlington bounded and described as follows: Southerly by Chatham Street 164.52 feet; Southwesterly by the junction of Chatham Street and Washington Street 22.41 feet; West by Washington Street 12.22 feet; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of William R. Bennett, Adelaide M. Bennett 115.55 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of Sidney H. Buttrick, Jr. and Marguerite C. Buttrick 72.92 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the thirtieth day of February next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December in the year nineteen hundred and sixty. Attest with Seal of said Court. (Seal)

Margaret M. Daly, Recorder, Francis Keefe, 281 Mass. Ave., Arlington, Mass. Atty. for the Petitioner. 5Jan3w

(SEAL) Case No. 33152 Misc. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts LAND COURT

To all whom it may concern, and to Edwin A. Wheeler, deceased, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives, Paul H. Snow, of Boston in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, Public Administrator.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Robert J. Roche and Marion G. Roche of Arlington in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth to establish their title under a low value deed, and to require said Court (Ter. 34) Chapter 69, Section 80-L, running to Town of Arlington, by instrument dated December 27, 1955, and recorded in Book 6008, Page 219; that the petitioners now hold their title under deed from Town of Arlington dated March 25, 1960, and duly recorded with said Registry of Deeds, in Book 9573, Page 52, and to require said Court to show cause why you should not bring action to try; any claim or claims which you may have adverse to the petitioner title arising out of the tax proceedings under which the petitioners' title is based.

Said petition covers a parcel of land in said Arlington, bounded and described as follows: Land located on Brattle Avenue, being the premises described and shown as Lot 2, on a plan filed in Assessors' Office, being Block Plan 88, Section 8.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House) or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Cambridge on or before the thirtieth day of January next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of December 1960. Margaret M. Daly, Recorder. 29dec3w

Dear friends,

This community has learned to expect a high type of funeral service. We are very sure that you could not tolerate now the best type of service given by the funeral director thirty or forty years ago. Modern methods and modern equipment have replaced the old.

State requirements are now very rigid, and a heavy investment in equipment and organization is necessary.

Respectfully,

Paul E. Sprague

Pulpit Exchange Sunday

The traditional, annual pulpit exchange in the churches of Arlington will take place this Sunday. This event is sponsored by the Ministerial Association.

The schedule of exchange is as follows: The Rev. Lewis Williamson will preach at First Baptist, The Rev. Donald D. Menzel will speak at Trinity Baptist, The Rev. Halsey Andrews will preach at St. Paul's Lutheran, The Rev.

Emmet Eklund will be preaching at St. John's Episcopal, The Rev. Charles Pederson speaks at First Unitarian, The Rev. William Lewis will be the preacher at First Universalist, The Rev. James Daniels preaches at Calvary Methodist, The Rev. Wilbur Canaday goes to Heights Methodist, and The Rev. Robert Earl Slaughter preaches at Park Avenue Congregational. Two churches, Pleasant St.

Congregational and Heights Baptist, found it impossible to schedule the exchange on this Sunday.

Attend your own church this Sunday when you will hear a fine guest preacher from your own town.

"American parents are really optimists. Who else would try to raise a family and a standard of living at the same time?" — Washburn News.

To Dramatize Problems Confronting Youth

"Tomorrow is a Day", a twenty-minute situation dramatization will set the stage for the second in the January series of meetings of the Arlington Mental Health Ass'n on the theme of "Understanding Adolescents".

Seven members of the group will enact a typical family drama involving relationships of parents and children at the Little Theater in the Arlington High school on Monday evening, Jan. 16 at 8.

The cast includes Mesdames Laurence Mantyla, David Gersh, Robert Nickerson, Ralph Tuller, Daniel Wolf, William A. Rivenburg and Mrs. William W. Eakins.

"The sad thing about history is that every time it repeats itself, the price goes up" — Square & Crescent.

Fair Provides Fund For Field Trips

The recent executive board meetings of the Locke School PTA have shown that the result of the Christmas Fair was "gratifying".

The net profits were used to set up a fund to defray a part of the expense of field trips for the pupils to be arranged by the teachers at their discretion.

The Christmas program presented by the pupils on a theme of Santa's Helpers was presented on the Wednesday before school closed for the Christmas vacation to a capacity audience of parents, relatives and friends.

A pre-Christmas sale was held in conjunction.

The next meeting of the unit will be held at 12:30 p.m. on Jan. 12. Ross, the hair stylist, will be there to give helpful suggestions after dessert and coffee have been served.

At the midwinter conference of the Massachusetts Congress of Parents and Teachers on Jan. 28th at the Statler-Hilton, the representatives from the Locke will include Miss Mary T. Murphy, principal, Mrs. John N. Winning, president, and Mrs. Anthony D. Gigante, vice-president and program chairman.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

(An Advocate feature in which readers are invited to express their views and opinions. This feature is printed every week to give an indication of the thinking of you, the public.)

To the editor:

Your editorial of December 29 — "Inconceivable Sums of Money" — was shocking in its endorsement of the head-in-the-sand proposals of the latest isolationist organization, the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee.

It is true that we must do something about getting our foreign accounts in balance, but the situation does not call for panic.

It is definitely not true that our economy is in danger of collapse, nor that the Committee's proposal to "cut out most of the Foreign Aid and withdraw most of our overseas garrisons" would lead to "a sound economy and military supremacy".

Such proposals are based on the most dangerous kind of wishful thinking.

There is nothing "inconceivable" about the amount of money involved in our foreign aid efforts. As the budget is usually broken down, this category in recent years has been about one-tenth as large as our military budget, or about one percent of our national income.

That is not "inconceivable". Cutting off these expenditures, if that were possible, would not solve the problem of our balance of international payments and gold outflow, although the amounts of money are about the same.

Over three-quarters of the foreign aid total is actually spent directly in the United States, and much of the remainder indirectly finds its way back in payment for United States exports.

Cutting off the expenditure would automatically bring about major cuts in our receipts from abroad, so that we would gain only slightly on the balance.

There would be depressing effects on all the free world economies, including our own.

The selective measures that are being taken have been well chosen for effectiveness in cutting our foreign deficit while avoiding these undesirable effects as much as possible.

What is most needed in addition is a bit more effective American salesmanship and competitive pricing of our exports, which have been increasing encouragingly lately but still need a further boost.

What is inconceivable is not the sums of money given or lent for foreign aid.

The inconceivable thing is that any significant number of citizens can really believe it is possible for us to cut ourselves off from the rest of the world and withdraw into splendid 19th Century isolation in our hemisphere, or continent, or nation — I'm not sure where they would draw the line.

Can they not see that all the world is now involved in our future, that we cannot long prosper or remain secure if the rest of the world falls into violent turmoil or succumbs to the domination of the Communist Empire?

The Marshall Plan did its job of helping Western Europe regain its strength.

Now we must do what we can to foster healthy growth of the underdeveloped countries — not as our stooges or puppets, but as independent and vigorous nations that can eventually hold their own and avoid becoming battleground in the East-West conflict.

Our national interest requires that we try to achieve a stable world environment within which to develop our national way of life.

Isolation is no longer possible. It is a dream of days gone by, never to return. It is time for the "outspoken opponents of globalism" — and for all of us — to wake up and face reality.

ARMENIAN ASS'N

The January meeting of the Armenian Citizens Ass'n of Arlington will feature a cabaret night on Friday, president Aram C. Conragan Jr. has announced. The meeting will be held in Legion hall.

Entertainment is under the direction of Makapud Anankian. Canasta, bridge, whist and backgammon contests will also be held.

Delicacies prepared by the wives of the members of the board of directors will be served.

Admission is free.

CHRISTMAS donation of $82 from the members of the Arlington Fire Department was given to the Little Sisters Of The Poor who maintain the Home For The Aged in Somerville.

GIVE THANKS

To the Advocate, In a world enveloped in a cold war threatened by communist boasts of a hot war, it would seem that there is little to be thankful about. However, as we look around us we can find many areas in which we could declare ourselves the luckiest people in the world.

The abundance of food in our free society means that we don't go to bed each night with the torturous pangs of hunger wracking our bodies.

We can be thankful of our free elective process under a government by and for the people.

We should ever be grateful for the right of free speech, a right which has been taken away by the power lust of demagogues in many of the European and Far Eastern nations.

As Americans we can be thankful of our rights to worship as we please and in the church of our choosing.

We can be thankful for a free and unfettered press that is responsible for keeping you informed of international, national, state and local events.

As we sit down for our meals we should take a few moments out to say a prayer for all the blessings which God has bestowed upon us.

Victoria A. Craig

FAVORS PARKING AREA

Mr. Daniel J. Buckley, Chairman Board of Selectmen

Dear Mr. Buckley: On Dec. 19, 1960, the Planning Board met with the Board of Selectmen to report on the review requested by the Selectmen of the proposal for the extension of Railroad avenue.

At this meeting Robert F. Rowland of Planning and Renewal Associates presented for discussion a revised proposal for the Railroad avenue area which this firm had submitted on Dec. 15 to the Planning Board.

After mature consideration the Planning Board has voted to recommend the proposal as outlined in the attached report and strongly endorses this plan to develop efficient short-term parking and improved traffic facilities in what it believes is a very vital area in Arlington Center.

Very truly yours,
Murdana Campbell
Chairman

THANKS LOCAL UNION

John J. Kelliher, President Town Employees, Local 680

Dear Mr. Kelliher: At a recent Selectmen's meeting, Chairman Buckley commended your organization for the wonderful party recently put on for the elderly at "Reservoir Manor."

Would you please extend to the members of your organization and particularly to those unselfish men who actively aided in the success of this great venture, the grateful thanks and commendation of the Board of Selectmen.

Would you, at the same time, also inform them of my great pride and satisfaction in the wonderful work of charity that was accomplished; frankly, I never saw such happiness in the eyes of people as I witnessed that particular night.

Speaking personally, I was, and will continue to be, far from proud of Arlington Town Employees, Local 680, and their additional evidence of their very humanitarian attitude towards all people.

It is my privilege and honor to be associated with them.

Very truly yours,
Edward C. Monahan
Town Manager

Inquiry Class At St. Agnes

A series of lectures explaining the teachings and practices of the Catholic church will commence next Monday evening, Jan. 16, at 8 p.m. in Fidelity House and will continue on Monday and Thursday evenings for a period of 10 weeks.

All are cordially invited and if interested are urged to attend. Interest for non-Catholics may be simply the opportunity to know what the Catholic church teaches and why. For Catholics a summary review.

There is no cost, obligation or commitment of any kind.

"Come, bring a companion," it is urged.

Historical Society Tea

5TH GRANDDAUGHTER of 1775 Minuteman Jason Russell who died on April 19th in the door yard of the now historic home at Jason st. and Mass. ave. attends recent tea there, sponsored by the Historical Society with her husband Charles F. Smith. They live in Orono, Maine. Mrs. Ruth Greenwood Smith is the daughter of the late Elmer and Edith (Russell) Greenwood. She has given several relics of the Revolutionary Era to the Society.

A special exhibit arranged by Miss Ruth Sampson provided of interest to the seventy or more people who attended the New Year's tea of the Arlington Historical Society at Jason Russell House.

On display were articles carried or worn by Civil War soldiers between the years 1860-1864, as well as an iron kettle belonging to Jason Russell recently presented to the Society by a direct descendant, Mrs. Charles Smith of Orono, Maine.

According to President Laurence I. Barber, Mrs. Smith stipulated that the kettle should be a permanent part of the furnishings of the Jason Russell House.

Also on exhibition were several letters written to James M. W. Yerrinton, the first reporter-stenographer in the United States, which were the gift of his granddaughters, the Misses, Bertha, Elizabeth, Katharine and Margaret Yerrinton.

Signatures on the letters included those of Susan B. Anthony, Wendell Phillips, Henry Ward Beecher, Lydia Maria Childs, Harriet Beecher Stowe, William Lloyd Garrison, Thomas W. Higginson, Samuel Gridley Howe and other equally prominent persons.

At the next meeting of the Society, to be held in the Unitarian Church vestry on January 31, Carl A. Johnson, head of the history department at Arlington High school, will speak on "Jefferson—Is Monticello America's Milltown?"

fore state departments and agencies — all these undermine and sabotage public confidence in state government.

Granted there is much wrong on Beacon Hill. But there is much good, also. However, there's nothing so wrong that it can't be remedied. The shortest, most direct way is to dust off the old-fashioned concept of public service and have some legislators and other state officials rededicate themselves and become more concerned with political science than political spoils.

Governor Volpe can speak pretty loudly from the Governor's office. He probably will if this session starts looking like a carbon copy of the last. The governorship is a great platform and famed for its publicity-making value.

MARRIED IN LEXINGTON CHURCH

In a setting of red and white poinsettias at the Church of Our Redeemer, Lexington, Miss Ellen Fowler Burrows became the bride of David Leonard Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Webb of 107 Oakland ave., Arlington Heights.

The three o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Harold T. Handley and was followed by a reception in the Great Hall of the Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernard Burrows of Lexington, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, of Chantilly lace and satin, had a chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Brenda Jane Boleyn of Lexington was her cousin's maid of honor.

She wore Christmas red taffeta and carried a cascade bouquet of holly and red carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Horan of Sharon and Miss Alice M. Turcotte of Cornish, Maine, also cousins of the bride. They wore identical dresses of Christmas green and carried cascades of holly.

The best man was Arnold Aldrich of Hampton, Virginia. The ushers included Bruce Boleyn and Robert Burrows II and Richard Blodgett of Lexington; Bradford Goss of Newburyport.

The bride is attending Pembroke College. The bridegroom graduated from Northeastern University and is on the staff of High Voltage Engineers, Inc.

Red and Gray Jottings

by Carl Allen Jr.

The Girls varsity basketball team overwhelmed Melrose 42-19 on Friday afternoon. The forwards are Carol O'Neill, who scored 17 points; Capt. Carolyn Hall, 15 points; Diane Rizzo 10 points. Outstanding guards are Linda Serflippi, Susan Doherty and Rosemary Lax. The Girls J.V. basketball team lost 21-12.

Tomorrow afternoon the girls play Newton.

The Boys basketball team trounced Watertown 79-36 on Dec. 6 to gain second place in the Suburban League.

Scoring for the Red and Gray were Ostrander 9 points, Driscoll 13, Morrison 8, Murray 6, Scully 21, Grannan 8, Boutiette 6, Govoni 2, Marchand 2, and Freehan 4. This year's manager is Ray Caruso.

Tuesday the team played Rindge Tech.

The Burnsmen increased their unbeaten series to eight games by beating Rindge Tech 2-0. Paul Donnelly assisted by Allen Kierstead lived in the game by scoring the first goal at 1:40 in the second period. Sean Quinlan scored the second goal of the shut-out on a pass from Paul Daviau at 1:39 in the third.

The game vs Cambridge Latin this Saturday has second ice.

On Dec. 7 the Red and Gray indoor track team defeated defending Division II Champion Natick by a score of 42-40 in what some people considered to be the most exciting meet ever staged at the East Newton Street Armory.

With only three events left Coach Kelley's team was losing 23 to 40 because of a "quick gun" in the 50-yd. hurdles.

In the 50-yd. dash Co-Capt. Dave Falwell, Dick Moriarty and Jimmy Lund turned in a tremendous effort to shut-out Natick in the event. Next the Kellegymen won the one lap relay race making the score 37-40. The winner of the mile relay in which Bill Lewis, Bob Kelley, Arnold Reppucci, and Jimmy Giffallen would run would be the winner of the meet. In a very dramatic finish Giffallen overcame a yard handicap and won at the tape by six inches.

Seniors! Subscriptions for the Yearbook ($6.50) will be taken next week only by home-room representative.

Mr. Wolfgang Haupt of West Germany was the guest speaker at the Inter-Nations club meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Monday the Allied Youth showed the movies which Fred Londaes had taken at the Buck Hill Falls convention, attended by forty Arlington students.

Tomorrow the Student Council is holding an afternoon dance. Refreshments will be served. The Council hopes to run a night couples dance, but you have to show the faculty your support.

Try-outs for the Girl's varsity tennis team were held this week.

All-Star Sextet

Boston University hockey coach Harry Cleverly faced representatives of his past 16 seasons when his current Terrier varsity met the BU alumni all-stars last night at the Boston Arena.

No less than six All-Americans were in the starting lineup for the old grads with another in reserve. A "dream-line" of all-time Terrier high scorers Jack Garrity, Dick Rodenhiser, and Bob Marquis formed the first line.

On defense was Bob Dupuis and Walt Anderson with Don MacLeod available and Mike Bevins of Arlington was in the goal.

Maroons 2, Rangers 1

Dan Grannan's goal in the closing moments of the game nipped the Rangers 2-1. Fred Holway scored the first goal for the Maroons. Jim Largen and Dave Holway were given assists on the goal. Dennis netted the lone tally for the Rangers assisted by Fred Stiles.

Rockets 1, Canadiens 1

Ken Donovan picked up a loose puck at center ice, skittered a scorcher into the net of the Canadiens defense and strings to tie the high flying Rockets. Peter Moray had given the Rockets an early lead when he took a pass up from Bill Regan and drilled a high shot past the Rocket goalie.

Leafs 2, Wings 1

Dave Briand drove home the winning marker for the Leafs and assisted on Ed Ronan's goal to put the Leafs on top with the Bruins. Mark Murphy had tied things up for the Wings by knocking in Dave Porteus's rebound early in the period.

Hawks 1, Bruins 2

The Bruins remained on top by edging the scrappy Hawks 2-1. Al Bowman gave the Bruins an early lead assisted by Norby Unger. Tom Fitzgerald tied it up assisted by Tom Walsh and Bill Shea. John Alessandrini won it when his high shot was deflected into the net. Bob Bartholomew earned an assist on the play. Don Apprille saved the game for the Bruins when he stopped the Hawk's Tom Walsh on a breakaway.

Cancer Research Grants Given

BOSTON — In the fight against cancer, the American Cancer Society and its Massachusetts Division are currently sponsoring nearly $18 million in research grants and more than $2 million of this is in effect in Massachusetts.

The figures were revealed today in the annual report of the Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division.

According to the report, there has been a tremendous upsurge of research in all aspects of cancer in the past 15 years.

"The American Society for the Control of Cancer was founded by doctors in 1913," the report states. "Fifteen years ago it was reorganized as the American Society and membership was extended to laymen. In that year — 1945 — only about $1 million was available for cancer research in the U.S. from all sources. But look at what's happened since!"

"Since 1945, the American Cancer Society alone has devoted almost $85 million to cancer research, and the Society's example and constant urging have stimulated the government to invest additional vast sums."

The research achievements of a single year sometimes seem small to scientists and the public alike, the report says, "for when it comes to cancer, everyone is impatient." However, every gain is a vital part of a continuing program whose achievement ments in a decade and a half have been astonishing. "The cure rate has gone up dramatically," the report states. "New treatments for advanced cancer now prolong life usefully. New concepts of the cause and nature of cancer have been proposed and investigated and some have been widely accepted."

With new microscopic techniques, the report says, "the once impenetrable cancer cell is today explored as easily as if it were as big as a ballroom."

In terms of public reaction to the American Cancer Society's efforts, the Massachusetts Division says that people are no longer afraid to talk about cancer or to have it treated, and that millions have learned the danger signals and the importance of early diagnosis.

In addition to grants from the Society's national office to Massachusetts institutions and scientists, the Massachusetts Division itself allocated $386,124 during the fiscal year to medical and statistical research, lay and professional service, and professional education.

The Division also carried forward a wide-ranging year-round program of cancer education to teach life-saving knowledge of cancer's warning symptoms and the importance of regular health examinations.

Harvard Professor

President Nathan M. Pusey announces the appointment of two distinguished scholars of English literature to the faculty of Harvard University, and the promotion of 11 Harvard faculty members to the rank of professor.

The appointments, effective July 1, received the consent of the Board of Overseers on January 9th.

Among the new faculty members is Richard Wilcox, 34-year-old expert in high-energy physics; and in the field of engineering and applied physics.

Wilcox, professor of physics, is a resident of Arlington. He has studied neutron-producing disintegration in various elements, properties of the pi-meson, and gamma-ray spectroscopy at a variety of high-energy installations in Europe and the United States.

At the Harvard Cyclotron, he has investigated the interaction between nucleons (neutrons and protons), particularly by studying the scattering of polarized protons. He will do research in the Cambridge Electron Accelerator when it is completed this year.

A native of London, he received the B.A., M.A., and D.Phil. degrees from Christ Church, Oxford. He joined the Harvard faculty in 1955 and became Associate Professor of Physics in 1957.

He will study on a John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship from February to September 1961.

HEART DINNER

Dr. Louis N. Katz of Chicago, noted cardiologist, will be the guest speaker at the opening dinner of the 1961 Heart Fund in Massachusetts. It was announced today by former Boston Mayor John B. Hynes, state chairman of the annual campaign.

The dinner, to be given at 7 p.m. on Feb. 1, at the Hotel Somerset, will be attended by hundreds of cardiovascular specialists and Heart Fund volunteer leaders.

Arlington general chairman for the 1961 Heart Fund drive is Robert Campobasso.

"Every business concern needs some promising young men — in order to attract good secretaries" — Industrial Press Service.

'Teens Against Polio' Organized

More than 300 young people from all parts of Massachusetts assemble in Boston, recently, to organize the Teens Against Polio (TAP) program for the 1961 New March of Dimes.

Judith Ann Robertson, 12 Intervale road, Teen Age Chairman for Middlesex County East Chapter, led a large group from the area to the meeting.

Judith was also co-chairman of the program. Leah Donnelly, Upland Road West, is Arlington Teen Age Chairman.

The program was sponsored by The National Foundation to present the facts of the expanded medical program of the March of Dimes organization and to show how young people can participate in its many phases.

Adult advisor for the meeting was Mrs. Arthur S. Hotch, State Director of Women's Activities.

The young people also heard plans for the many varied events which they can promote to help the March of Dimes in its fund raising during January.

Math Teachers Start New Course

The mathematics teachers in Arlington's secondary schools last Thursday began a course on the new approach to mathematics. The course will continue weekly until June.

It was arranged by Dr. Lawrence Anderson, assistant superintendent of schools, and Douglas Eaton, head of the mathematics department, at the request of the school committee.

There are several approaches to the new mathematics, but the approach used here will be that devised by the School Mathematics Study group, the so-called Yale Plan. The course is being taught by W. Eugene Ferguson of Newton, who is a specialist in the field.

All members of the mathematics faculties of the senior and junior high schools are enrolled in the course, as well as representatives of the science department and the vocational high school.

The extent to which this new approach will be used in Arlington will be determined by the school committee at a later date.

Bob Porteus Announces Candidacy

Robert W. (Bob) Porteus of 38 Frost street today announced his intentions to seek a seat on the Arlington Board of Selectmen. A life-long resident of Arlington, Bob Porteus presently serves as a town meeting member from Precinct 9 and is a member of the Arlington Republican Town Committee. He is also the Republican State Committeeman from the district which includes Medford, Winchester and Woburn in addition to Arlington.

He is a graduate and degree holder from Arlington High School, Kimball Union Academy, the College of Basic Studies at Boston University as well as that institution's School of Public Relations and Communications. Presently he is taking additional courses in law at Suffolk University. He is a semi-professional baseball player and a batting practice pitcher at Fenway Park for Ted Williams when the latter sustained any of his frequent injuries. He pitched also for Boston University as well as the "Arlington Hobbes" and "Dennis Clippers."

Bob has been a most active figure in many political campaigns. A notary public, Porteus serves as public relations director for General Suburban Associates Inc. and was recently named to the Board of Directors for that corporation. He also has been a maitre de and entertainer at leading pleasure resorts on Cape Cod. He is and has been a leader in various fraternal and civic activities. His presence has also been noted in work from numerous charitable endeavors. While at Boston University, Bob Porteus served on many student government boards as an elected leader. For these efforts, he won the honorary blue key for outstanding participation in extra curricular activities.

Although well known to many of our townspeople, Porteus is especially admired by the younger element in the town. He has worked with young people in the Arlington Youth Association and other activities. "The encouraging of young people towards goals of sportsmanship and high standards of living gives Arlington a most vivid degree of optimism" when considering the future of our town and its townspeople, Porteus said.

The supporters of Bob Porteus for selectman feel that there is a place on that board for young, energetic and intelligent leadership. The belief that politics is a category which should be avoided by younger people has been completely obliterated by electoral results in the past few years. To obviate this condition has not been an easy measure, and Bob Porteus is well pleased that he had a part in this.
